CWSC...Unleashing and harnessing the full capacity inherent in the group intellect

The ability to leverage intellectual resources and distribute talent across geographical and institutional boundaries, and across the landscape of challenges and opportunities that face every community and institution—that’s what a national intelligentsia can do for us and for the world. To unleash and harness the full capacity inherent in the group intellect, we’ll have to make the connections not only inside Scripture, but we’ll also need to make the connections with one another—that’s the path of progress for CWSC! Visit us at cwsc.us.

ABOUT CWSC...

MISSION STATEMENT

To realize our model community vision by operating as a national intelligentsia, think tank, volunteer resource and broadcasting network researching, designing, communicating and implementing solutions that enhance goal achievement in all aspects of our community life.

VISION STATEMENT

To remake our world into a better place by unleashing and harnessing the full capacity inherent in the group intellect.

GUIDING PRINCIPLES

The ethical guides for our actions are the Qur’an and the Life Example of Prophet Muhammed (peace be upon him). Our leadership legacy in Imam W. Deen Mohammed (R) serves as a contemporary example of the application of Qur’an and the Life Example of Prophet Muhammed (S).

FOCUS

The Community Wide Shuraa Conference™ (CWSC) is established as a community service organization supporting Qur’anic principle of representative democracy (mutual consultation) in the conduct of affairs and believes that only through Shuraa can the power of our group intellect be fully utilized for solving problems and discovering opportunities that help each of us improve our individual, family and community life.

The Inspirational Leadership of Imam Dr. W. Deen Mohammed (R)

Planter of the Seed for Our National Intelligentsia...

"Building a better community, better businesses, a better appreciation for our life, building on the greatness of our history...that's the work that must continue." —Imam Dr. W. Deen Mohammed (1933-2008)

A world renowned religious scholar and leader for millions of American Muslims, Imam Dr. Wallace Deen Mohammed (R) dedicated his life building bridges of interfaith respect and racial harmony. The son of Nation of Islam leader the Honorable Elijah Muhammad (R), the Imam led the transition of "so-called" Black Muslims and the Nation of Islam to true Islam, dispelling false notions of race and religion to make his community a new world leader for the proper understanding and practice of Al-Islam.

Author, scholar, businessman, and advisor to Presidents, the Imam founded The Mosque Cares and Collective Purchasing Conference. He served as an International President for the World Conference on Religion and Peace and on the World Supreme Council of Masajid. He was the first Muslim in U.S. history to deliver an invocation on the floor of the U.S. Senate. He inherited the struggle for dignity and economic justice through the African-American saga and Islamic influence woven into the history of blacks both before and after American slavery.

The Imam proclaimed the message of Al-Islam to save his Community and the world. To do so, he had to stand courageously firm against the dogma of the Nation of Islam. Like King or Mandela, he had been able to see over the mountain top of obstacles and difficulties, as he moved strategically to evolve his Community from charismatic leadership and centralized hierarchy to institutional leadership and respect for the group intellect. He removed the trappings of riches and a so-called royal birthright to stand against even members of his family to safeguard his community's moral and material interests.

His religion was Al-Islam; his faith was in G-d and in the nobility of the common man; upon that foundation he built a new house to replace a fallen temple. The Imam proclaimed One G-d and one humanity, and that the Final Prophet sent by the Lord of Abraham, Moses, and Jesus is Muhammed to whom the Qur'an was revealed over 14 centuries ago (Peace and Blessings be upon them all).

Imam Mohammed's mission and vision, emphasizing religious scholarship, education, economic development, and the promotion of universal human excellence live on and continue to transpose a legacy of leadership onto the world stage. (Adapted with permission from FAMACO Publishers)

CWSC & AM360 Founder Imam Thomas Abdul Salaam (R)

"If it is to be...it is up to me" —Imam Thomas Abdul Salaam

Imam Thomas Abdul-Salaam (1953-2015) was a widely respected pioneer broadcaster and community leader affectionately known as the Twin Servant of Peace and Mr. AM360. He responded to the call of Imam Dr. W. Deen Mohammed (1933-2008), who challenged the Muslim community to open up lines of communication within its group intellect. Thomas got busy building an internet radio station in 2010 with the support of his wife, Dr. A'isha Kareem, and with the hope of connecting Muslim voices across the U.S.

He undertook a daunting task requiring initial and sustained capital investment and even greater faith. Placing personal finances at risk and working literally from sun up to sun down, Thomas steadily and methodically built a national radio network appealing to an underserved American Muslim community. He would literally create the real-time pathways to not only connect an entire community, but he would indeed give them a national voice and a way to share ideas and engage in productive dialogue as never before. He was named to the list of 50 Inspirational Black Muslim Men.

He was a CWSC co-founder and its first executive director. He was an imam, author, air force veteran, and pioneering national broadcaster and co-founder of American Muslim 360 Radio. Known also by his moniker, the Twin Servant of Peace, Thomas was a true visionary and community builder. He helped create the "intellectual space" for voices in the Muslim community and beyond to share in open and honest dialogue on topics as diverse as religion and faith to politics and social justice. He garnered the attention of Muslims and non-Muslims alike with innovative broadcasting designed to educate, inspire and facilitate the aspiration for building model communities. His efforts led directly to the CWSC's founding as a manifestation of an intelligentsia first envisioned by Imam Mohammed.

Today both AM360 and CWSC are firmly established. A CWSC college scholarship is posthumously established in his honor and each year the CWSC honors him posthumously with an official declaration of August 26 as CWSC Founder's Day marked with remembrances, interviews, tributes and other appropriate recognition of the sacrifice and commitment Thomas demonstrated until his last days of serving Allah (SWT) and his community. His motto of "If it is to be, it's up to me" has now brought us to the bigger community vision of "If it is be, it's up to we."

The Twin Servant was blessed to make connections from the wisdom of Imam Dr. W. Deen Mohammed (R) and he peered into the future to make one of the greatest connections our Community has ever benefited from...he connected us by integrating the vision of a national working intelligentsia with a powerful broadcasting medium...he sought to give all of us a voice to become a sounding and working group intellect within the respectful framework of Shuraa Baynahum.

"...Work to build a better place for [ourselves], one that will benefit all people, regardless of race or religion."

—Imam W. Deen Mohammed (R)

September 13, 2019

Dear American Muslim 360 Team Member: As Salaam Alaikum!

On behalf of Community Wide Shuraa Conference™ (CWSC), I am pleased to welcome you to Atlanta and to the American Muslim 360® (AM360) Host Education, Development and Team Building Session.

We've gathered for a noble purpose: To convene face-to-face as believers from a specialized group intellect committed to increasing our knowledge, skills, and vision as broadcasters, engineers, and staff in helping improve our service to communities nationwide via the AM360 intelligentsia.

Never in the history of the world has the human intellect and voice been so transportative. We're living in a time when the technology that Allah (SWT) has blessed us with creates unprecedented opportunities to bring our group intellect together and in an electronic town hall that brings us into conversation not only with one another, but with the world—in real-time, instantly, and that further provides a historical archive (podcast) able to be accessed in the future by anyone on earth with an internet connection or phone. Such ability is a tremendous blessing and simultaneous responsibility that demands our utmost striving and commitment to continuous improvement including a willingness to expand our personal and group vision of the possibilities to remake the world.

Yet as the great 20th century liberator Mahatma Ghandi (R) reminds us, "As human beings, our greatness lies not so much in being able to remake the world as in being able to remake ourselves." Our Imam gave us a mission to "remake the world" and said "words make people." Both leaders are saying the same, for Imam Mohammed (R) demonstrated we had to first remake ourselves with the Qur'an and Life Example of the Prophet (S) to become the global Muslim citizens and community we are today—deserving now of a great honor by Allah's Will to speak from a global platform on Al-Islam in America and the world. Mere chance has not brought us to this point... "To each is a goal to which Allah turns him; then strive together as in a race towards all that is good. Wherever you are, Allah will bring you together. For He has power over all things." (Q,2:148)

So this weekend, we ask Allah's (SWT) Blessings on our broadcasting network, upon our mission, and upon each one of us individually and collectively that He will make us worthy of AM360 and help us fulfill the charge we've been given to continue creating that noble place where our intellects are respected and our voices protected. Thank you to all who have made this day possible.

May Allah bless us with a successful Session.

As-Salaam-Alaikum

American Muslim 360® Radio Network (AM360.org)

...The #1 Islamic Radio Station in the nation where your intellect is respected and your voice protected.

OUR MISSION

To help remake the world by serving as a major American Muslim intelligentsia media, information and network center delivering high quality digital and broadcast content that informs, educates, stimulates and entertains according to the best of our model community aspirations.

OUR VISION

To create the shared freedom space where one's intellect is respected and voice protected, via the highest quality broadcasting medium, best programming and top qualified personnel...helping to connect and encourage the widest group intellect to exchange ideas, engage in intellectual exertion and apply Qur'anic-based problem solving across all societal concerns including education, business, government and culture.

As an intelligentsia component of the Community Wide Shuraa Conference, Inc. or CWSC... we seek to be a broadcasting network where the group intellect in its broadest sense can learn about themselves and the world and encourage one another to work together for the common good. We may hear differing viewpoints... even disagree with a point of view or coverage of a controversial topic; yet we can still listen, examine opposing opinion and then if necessary, even challenge the point of view in a respectful manner. For it is our ability to listen, learn, challenge and earnestly seek the common ground that enable us to remake the world.

Thank you for being part of this group intellect.

As a radio station and leading media influencer...American Muslim 360® (AM360.org), a network broadcasting center about Al-Islam and being an American Muslim citizen - part of a socially conscious community forming the most racially diverse, faith-based community in America. We're urgently working to more effectively impact the national and international dialogue on the image of Islam and Muslims and on every major issue of our day. We seek to inspire civic engagement, to educate, inform and lightly entertain with wholesome programming that serves the best of our communities' aspirations.

As an intelligentsia and radio station, our purposes as ratified by the Board of Directors include:

- Serving as the official communication arm of the CWSC in espousing its mission, vision and agenda.
- Providing production that addresses violent religious extremism, distortions of our faith, and Islamophobia.
- Providing real-time coverage of Islamic and broader community events.
- Producing cultural programs that both inform and entertain.
- Providing widest access technologically to the intellectual and cultural resources of our group intellect.
- Sharing the weekly Salat ul Jumah from the widest group intellect.
- Connecting our group intellect in a virtual town hall for collective discussion and action via the MCNRD.
- Connecting the American Muslim Intelligentsia with itself and other faith communities to increase the capacity to do good.

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

September 13, 2019

From: Dr. A'isha Kareem, CEO Emeritus, American Muslim 360

To: Atlanta Host Session Attendees

Re: American Muslim 360 Atlanta Host Education, Development and Team Building Session

Dear Believers: As-Salaam-Alaikum!

As CWSC American Muslim 360 CEO Emeritus, I greatly appreciate your attendance at the Atlanta AM 360 Host Education, Development and Team Building Session. Regrettably I'm unable to attend due to a scheduling conflict. However, I'm very much inspired by our very first AM360 in-person team training Session. May Allah (SWT) be pleased and reward each of you, including our Ad hoc Planning Team, Presenters, and all attending this historic event.

Without doubt, the objectives of this Session are weighty and it will require all to undertake the principles of Shuraa Baynahum or respectful mutual consultation to bring out the best from the diverse human resources, knowledge and experience that has been assembled.

It was nearly five years ago, almost to this same month that we assembled in St. Louis for the very first National Town Hall. We were a baby organization then. And while we knew we were on a noble mission, we could not foresee the great blessings that lie ahead for us and the entire community. In hindsight, it was our love for one another and the work in service to Allah (SWT) and the believers that drove us then—and it's what drives us now. And by Allah (SWT), look how far we've come and in such a short time.

I ask that you keep the same or greater faith, focus, and love for one another and the work now, as you follow in the footsteps of the great St. Louis Town Hall that set us on a firm path of progress we can be proud of today.

I fully recognize the patience, stick-to-it-ness, and focused management it will take to meet the Session's objectives. InshaAllah, like those before you, your efforts will serve to bring AM360 to a new level of eminence and give our shared freedom space an even brighter future 'where all our intellects are respected and our voices protected.'

American Muslim 360® ...where your intellect is respected and your voice protected.

Celebrating 10 years and 600,000+ listen level and counting!

Through the work, enjoy one another's company; listen intently to one another while focusing on the station and our listenership. Pause to refresh as needed, and at the conclusion, you'll know one another not only by voice and face, but more importantly by heart.

Don't forget to take history-making notes and photos to fully capture this epoch-making event for the #1 Islamic radio station in the nation. And InshaAllah in the coming years you'll be able to look back, like your predecessors of St. Louis and Fayetteville and say, "Praise be to Allah!... it's true— Together We Can Remake the World!"

May Allah bless all with a safe journey...His Peace Be Upon You.

As-Salaam-Alaikum.

A'isha Kareem, Ph.D.

"Leadership's foremost responsibility is to arrange the environment for individual and organizational excellence...To remove obstacles that deny the full participation and contribution of all the group's members."

Genesis of New American Leadership. - A Muslim Commentary

A'isha Kareem is CEO Emeritus of American Muslim 360[®] Radio, a retired prison services chaplain (California State Corrections), and a lifelong social justice educator who has focused on equity for racially and socially marginalized students.

In 1985, Dr. Kareem founded and directed the Academy for Human Development, a youth empowerment organization, which earned her a visit from three-time World Champion, Muhammad Ali.

After some time, Dr. Kareem felt compelled to enter the State Department of Corrections to aid in the rehabilitation of many of her students' mothers and fathers, who themselves were caught up in the prison pipeline as victims of mass incarceration.

Nearly a decade later and during the month of Ramadan 2009, she, along side of her late husband, Thomas Abdul Salaam, affectionately called "The Twin Servant of Peace," launched a broadcasting network, the American Muslim (AM) 360 Blog Talk Radio. Through the use of internet technology, American Muslim community voices were synergized to communicate on issues of faith, race, and culture and other broader domestic and international affairs. AM360 became a town hall for interfaith dialogue and collaboration to address Islamophobia and religious violence and extremism. From these crossroads, AM 360 has achieved remarkable popularity to become the #1 Islamic blogtalk station in the nation.

In 2013, in response to a groundswell of AM360 grass roots support urging the Muslim community to complement dialogue with action and to help move a critical mass from ideas to reality, Dr. Kareem, helped found the Community Wide Shuraa Conference (CWSC) and so began one of the largest community service projects ever undertaken in the American Muslim community--to build a national intelligentsia upon the principles of Shuraa Baynahum or faith-based mutual and respectful consultation with an engaged national group intellect committed to action.

Dr. Kareem has served as adjunct professor at the University of the Pacific introducing the specialized curriculum, "Islam as a Social Remedy." She also commits significant time as CEO for American Muslim 360 and advisor for the Community Wide Shuraa Conference (CWSC). She is also a CWSC representative via the United Nations as a member of the non-governmental organization, The Grail, which focuses on the status of women. Dr. A'isha Kareem became Hajjah in 2003 with her journey to Mecca.

Dr. Kareem via the Academy for Human Development addressed the school-to-prison pipeline of boys of color disproportionately affected by incarcerated parents and the 'War on Drugs.' Through her chaplaincy, she aids parents in discovering the critical role of spirituality in rearing and mentoring responsible youth. She was honored for her contributions when the local Muslim community created her namesake with its institutional naming of Masjid Al-Kareemah (Community of the Generous).

A published writer and playwright,* Dr. Kareem penned "What's That On Your Head?," a commentary on Muslim women's dress and work experience, appearing in the book Nine to Five: Muslims in the Western Workplace. She is the recipient of several academic credentials and awards including the Morrie Turner Soul Corner Role Model Award and Valley Woman In History Award.

Ghetto Bus*. Screenplay by A'isha Kareem and Michael Edwards, 2015 (WGA Registration, # 1754996).

Brief Bio of Abdul Shaheed

Abdul Shaheed is a CSHC (Certified Symptommetry Health Coach) who completed two six-month courses on disease prevention and longevity at the American School of Symptommetry, and he has been a Symptommetry health coach since 2016.

In 2017, the Academic Council of the American School of Symptommetry appointed him teaching assistant. He is in his final year of the BSc program in cellular health and root-cause therapeutics at the American School of Symptommetry.

In addition to his Symptommetry credentials, he has, from Auburn University, Auburn, Alabama, a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree, specializing in visual design; a Bachelor of Secondary Education degree, specializing in art education; and a master's degree in Educational Media.

He has been married to his wife, Shafeqah A. Shaheed, for over forty-nine years and they have four children, three sons and one daughter, nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren to date.

His life's mission is to enlighten health-conscious individuals on root-cause therapeutics and provide them with guidance on general wellness, cell nourishment and health-enhancing nutrition so that they optimize their healing and disease prevention potentials.

Brief Biography of Ameena Ali, Ph.D.

Dr. Ameena Ali, professional midwife, maternal educator, reproductive, birth and social justice activist and “lactivist,” is a certified doctor of naturopathic care and host of AM360’s The Birth of Women; she is founder-director of Atlanta-based A Mother’s Peace midwifery outreach attending to the maternal wellness needs of women in crises including indigent, homeless, undocumented, incarcerated, HIV, teen clientele and pregnant domestic violence and sexual assault victims...

Ameena Ali, PhD. has for nearly three decades been on the front lines of health care and education. A former U.S. Army field paramedic, Dr. Ali now manages a network of wellness and maternal care services for women in crises.

The Atlanta-based entrepreneur is founder of the Georgia Reproductive Resource Alliance Center for Education and Empowerment (GRRACEE), a nonprofit umbrella for "A Mothers' Peace" and "C.A.R.E." (Cultural Awareness and Responsibility of Educators). The nonprofit provides education support services in the maternal care midwifery sector for doulas, apprenticing midwives and others seeking holistic education in pregnancy and childbirth education. Proctored by the "Village" approach in community outreach, Dr. Ali provides open-resource care to all who seek wisdom and “innerstanding” of proper mother-baby healthcare.

As a maternal support educator, Dr. Ali leads a wellness team in providing birth, labor and postpartum process (with education), prenatal services to the Indigent, homeless, undocumented, incarcerated and religious clientele with cultural requests for birthing options being met.

The mother of two college age girls, Dr. Ameena is an “on the ground” activist supporting and giving voice to some of the most vulnerable members of society. Her aspiration is to found and operate a Village Birth and Maternal Wellness and Educational Center, a bartered co-op, for birth care, wellness, parental and childbirth education, instruction and indigenous studies, with domestic partners and international birth helpers—the goal...to amass a formula for well mother-baby care that significantly reduces local and domestic Infant maternal mortality and morbidity rates.

Dr. Ali addresses audiences frequently on the following topics: Childbirth to Elementary Education; Wellness Management; Holistic Healthcare; Maternal Mentoring; Instruction and Activism; Redevelopment of Tribe, Band and Village within the Collective Communities, Women's Rights, Health & Advocacy.

Brief Biography of Dawud Abdullah (Uncle Woo)

Dawud Abdullah hails from Steubenville, Ohio, but is now a cultural artist, music aficionado, dj, and owner and CEO of at Univer-Soul Flavor in Atlanta, Georgia.

He became a national talk show host with the American Muslim 360 Radio Network in 2018.

As a cultural development & expression artist, he brings a unique perspective to the arts blending music, an “urban folksiness,” humor, and an appreciation for Islamic culture to AM360.

He can also be seen at venues supporting Islamic events in the Atlanta metro area where he is known affectionately as “Uncle Woo,” a moniker he sports also on air at AM360.

Dawud is also a youth mentor and supporter of youth development programs and understands the appeal and benefits that cultural activities and expression offer young people and strives to use his artistic expression to make a difference for them, while also recognizing that the cultural arts can empower the intellect no matter the age.

Brief Biography of M. Nailah Abdullah

M. Nailah Abdullah, a native of Florida, is founder and director of KNOW ME / No Me, LLC, an institute focused on health, education and youth empowerment.

A long time advocate of civic involvement, the American Muslim 360® radio host is passionate about involving youth in their community. She is formally trained in personal health care and brings a compassionate caring attentiveness to all her professional responsibilities.

She has performed administrative management in several industries including commercial transportation, food production, and skilled nursing care. She has also assisted with strategic planning and development in the non-profit sector.

As a local community organizer and certified trainer in community development and direct action strategies in education and social awareness, Nailah is very involved in community service at the local, regional, and national level. In addition to being director for KNOW ME / No Me, LLC, she serves as an officer and board of director for the Tampa Bay Area Muslim Association, Florida Conference of Muslim Americans, and the Community Wide Shuraa Conference, Inc. (CWSC). At CWSC she is a key contributor for the national nonprofit in both governance and operations and has been a big part of its success as a national institution over the last six years.

Nailah is currently attending school for studies in psychology and conducts independent study on the impact of communication and religion on world civilization with a focus on the human center " the soul " and its needs. She is a public speaker on the topics of youth mentoring & leadership development, community outreach, and capacity building.

"Leadership's foremost responsibility is to arrange the environment for individual and organizational excellence...To remove the obstacles that deny the full participation and contribution of all the group's members." –Mukhtar Muhammad, Genesis of New American Leadership: Building the Community Life

About Mukhtar Muhammad, Executive Director for the CWSC, Inc.

As a former enlisted and commissioned naval officer, Mukhtar Muhammad knows that inspired people are at the heart of every successful organization and believes the urgent task confronting all institutions, is how best to tap into the group intellect and the Creator-given talent in each one of us, and utilize the power of that group intellect for the maximum benefit of not only that institution, but the society...this belief is a central theme in his book, Genesis of New American Leadership and the major focus in his civic life.

Mukhtar Muhammad is executive director for Community Wide Shuraa Conference™, Inc.(CWSC); a principal at and vice president for national retailer FAMACO Publishers, LLC and famacopublishers.com; a distinguished lecturer in the CWSC Speakers Bureau; a national talk show host on the American Muslim 360® Radio Network (AM360.org); and author of the critically acclaimed Genesis of New American Leadership: Building the Community Life, the first socio-political and religious commentary on the tenets of effective leadership based on the principles of Islam, the commentary of contemporary religious scholars and American management philosophy. He hosts the weekly CWSC Building the Community Life Seminar on AM360.

As a nationally recognized speaker and management consultant, Mukhtar helps faith-based organizations with strategic governance and management issues and frequently presents on governance and stewardship, strategic planning, innovation and change management, organizational structure and design.

A third generation American Muslim leader, he continues a family tradition of service to his community and our nation. Mukhtar has served at the highest levels of national leadership for his religious association being appointed by the late Imam Dr. W. Deen Mohammed (R) to the former Islamic Affairs Council serving an estimated 2.5 million Muslims. He has held professional and civic responsibilities in strategic and business planning and served as an advisor to religious institutions throughout the U.S.

He previously served as CWSC's first corporate secretary and director for strategic planning & development and was unanimously nominated by CWSC volunteers across the nation and appointed by its board to serve as executive director for the Conference on March 18, 2015. The former National Steering Committee leader for his association's first professional intelligentsia effort, strategic planning director, convener masjid ashuraa, chief of staff, and former Muslim Student Association president, brings a wealth of executive leadership experience to his civic responsibilities having served in strategic planning, complex project management and systems design and implementation with cross industry experience in business, government, civic and entrepreneurial operating environments. He has held personal signature accountability for $1 billion+ for U.S. government funds.

Among Mukhtar's leadership milestones: Following the mass shooting at Parkland Florida, he led CWSC's delegation to meet with congressional leaders on Capitol Hill and deliver a joint letter in Congress representing over 60 organizations including the World Council of Religious Leaders in support of student rights to a safe and secure learning and neighborhood environment. He led the call and strategy session for the emergency assembly of the Islamic Affairs Council to address 911 terrorism; he was an invited participant and presenter at a U.S. State Department initiative to meet with provincial governors and other leaders from Afghanistan to address democracy, diversity, and Islam in America; he served as an Islamic representative at the United Methodist Church's annual national workshop on interfaith cooperation; and represented the international publication Muslim Journal as part of the international press corps at the grand opening of the Muhammad Ali Museum and Education Center, producing an acclaimed series of essays on the Life of Muhammad Ali and his missionary impact. Mukhtar led FAMACO's design team in producing the critically acclaimed international publication Remaking Our World: Tribute to the Leadership of Imam W. Deen Mohammed. He helped found and served as first director for the Words Make People Scholarship for higher education, now part of CWSC's national scholarship program.

He holds undergraduate and graduate degrees in four business concentrations including systems management, marketing, business management and human resources development from The Moore School of Business, University of South Carolina and Webster University. Among his awards and citations are the National Defense Service Medal, Sea Service, Joint Meritorious Unit Commendation, Navy Battle E, and two Navy Achievement Medals; the Muslim American Society Southern Region Pioneers Leadership Excellence Award and the General Dynamics Outstanding Achievement award.

During his military career, he performed duties aboard SSN Batfish, USS Iowa, USS O'Bannon, and USS Jesse L. Brown, RTC Orlando, Fleet Combat Training Center Damneck, Service School Command San Diego, and Naval Air Reserve Naval Air Station Jacksonville, Florida. His responsibilities took him around the U.S. and the world including Central and South America, the Caribbean, and Africa. He was blessed to perform the Hajj, Islam's fifth pillar of journey to Mecca, in 2001.

Mukhtar resides in Jacksonville, Florida with his wife Darlene of 30 years and daughter Maya.

CWSC Policy on Texting & Cell Phone Use While Driving

Due to the increased evidence of serious risks associated with driving while texting and or driving while engaging in cell phone conversation, whether handheld or not, it is the policy of the CWSC that all volunteers, support staff, board of directors, and advisors are expected not to text or talk on their cell phones for CWSC activities (inclusive of all its intelligentsia components) while driving, regardless of whether a hands-free device is used.

Regardless of how fast traffic is moving, our policy is to switch drivers if accompanied by another licensed person, pull into a rest area, parking lot, or other safe location and stop the vehicle before engaging in official CWSC activities and conversations.

CWSC also strongly encourages you to follow and share the above-mentioned policy even when engaged in personal business or other activities.

FOR GUESTS APPEARING ON AM360. Host-producers must inform the guest prior to his or her appearance of our Cell Phone Use Policy. No host may conduct an interview with a guest knowing the guest is driving.

FOR CALLERS...With respect to listeners, Simply integrate into periodic host practices or announcements or as circumstances warrant, the following: "We invite and appreciate your participation. We just ask that if you're driving, pull over, stop the vehicle for yourself and others' safety (or similar caution);" That is all that is required for callers. An excellent time to give such a reminder is right before opening the lines for listener feedback.

Community Wide Shuraa Conference (CWSC)
Unleashing and harnessing the capacity inherent in the group intellect

*"[We] must work to build a better place for [ourselves], one that will benefit all people, regardless of race or religion...
Leadership is in the resourceful people that represent the productive life of society"*

—Imam W. Deen Mohammed (ra)

Mission

To realize our model community vision by operating as a national intelligentsia, think tank and national resource network researching, designing, publishing and implementing solutions that enhance goal achievement in all aspects of our community life.

Vision

To remake our world into a better place by unleashing and harnessing the full capacity inherent in the group intellect.

8 Guiding Principles (Core Values)

- Respect for the Group Intellect
- Reliance on Mutual Consultation
- Qur'anic-Based Support and Problem Solving
- Support for Inter-Organizational Alliances
- Managerial and Fiscal Accountability
- Continuous Improvement
- Respect for Leadership
- Service to the Believers

How we accomplish the work

CWSC relies on the Qur'an, the excellent traditions of Prophet Muhammed (S), and the visionary leadership of Imam W. Deen Mohammed (ra) to unlock the full potential inherent in the group intellect.

What we do

The Community Wide Shuraa Conference (CWSC) is a faith-based national collaborative and working conference bringing together diverse human resources with the desire, expertise, knowledge and experience to help achieve the highest level of excellence in community life.
